Northwestern State University seeks an experienced individual to fill the position of Network Support Specialist. Responsibilities include assisting the Network Administrator with hands-on technical work in a Cisco networking environment with routers, switches, VPN concentrators, firewalls, and wireless; day-to-day network/telephone operations and needs assessment. The successful applicant must have a solid understanding of network security measures, which include Firewalls, ACLs, VPNs, and IPSec; understanding of TCP/IP, routing and routing protocols; Switching; Network monitoring software; Wireless. An applicant should be knowledgable of network and telephone cabling and termination. Applicant should have a good working knowledge of the Windows XP operating system. Applicant must be flexible in working with network, telephone, and PC desktop support. Applicants must submit a letter of application outlining their qualifications, a current resume, official copies of their college or university transcripts and three letters of recommendations to:

Dr. Jim McCrory
Director of Information Systems
200 Roy Hall
Northwestern State University
Natchitoches, LA  71497

Position opened until filled. Interviews begin immediately. Request for additional information, or electronic submission of application materials may be sent to:

mccrory@nsula.edu

Northwestern State University is an equal opportunity employer. Women and minority candidates are encouraged to apply.

Pre-employment drug testing will be completed post-job offer and prior to starting work.