Northwestern State University seeks an experienced individual to fill the position of System Support Specialist. Responsibilities include planning, designing, implementing, documenting, and maintaining efficient and cost-effective administrative computer application systems/programs to meet university needs, as directed. The position includes assisting the System Administrator with hands-on technical work in a Windows server enterprise environment. Applicants must submit a letter of application outlining their qualifications, a current resume, official copies of their college or university transcripts and three letters of recommendations to:

Dr. Jim McCrory
Director of Information Systems
200 Roy Hall
Northwestern State University
Natchitoches, LA  71497

Position opened until filled. Interviews begin immediately. Request for additional information, or electronic submission of application materials may be sent to:

mccrory@nsula.edu

Northwestern State University is an equal opportunity employer. Women and minority candidates are encouraged to apply.